

The
"NATIONS' CONGRESS"
The House of the Nations

The Nations' Congress (NC) is the world's Congress of Nations and the world's nations' official governing organization and sanctioning public body with duties superimposed on the functional public capacities of the UN and EU. Not an alliance or union, it is the world's nations' own self and entity. With its convening international character of global public reign, it functions as the World Nations' official independent, non-governmental and non-political enacting body of ordinance and prerogatives.

The NC functions globally, regionally and nationally in every country for civil and human rights and liberties, peace and freedom to secure and preserve a war-free and conflict-free egalitarian and libertarian world with peaceful nations and happy civil societies living in absolute freedom, peace, integrity, prosperity, solidarity and fraternity with fully-equal human rights and civil rights free from injustice, inequality, discrimination, prejudice, oppression, transgression, suppression and persecution.

The establishment of the NC through a long period of time, has progressively been materialized in the wake of current global happenings and predicaments faced by the world as detrimental realities: The global humanitarian system is currently on the verge of collapse, inter-state crises are alarmingly escalating, geopolitical tensions are rising with dreadful fragmentation while wars, poverty and famine are devastating our nations and deepening impacts of environmental disasters and climate change are threatening our vulnerable planet. Yet, the world is powerless and incapable of coming together to deal with these appalling conditions or respond their consequences efficiently.

Being left to their fate, vulnerable, unguarded, unprotected, defenseless and divulged, the nations of the world, with their own global open Congress, the NC, now come forth to officially assert themselves having their say, making their presence felt and seen and their voice formally heard and acted upon with its normative power.

The UN and EU will ever be continuing to exist as respected world organizations working for the world nations, whom they both owe their existence, remaining counted upon, revered and embraced while showing their devotion, faith, benevolence and goodwill to the nations and considering and respecting their views, opinions, preferences, calls, demands, claims and needs.

The NC will be working in cooperation and collaboration with the UN and EU and all world states and their governments and their agencies and organizations as well as national and international NGOs, institutions, and civil societies. A UN-NC-EU cooperation will uniquely be the basis of a true global integrity with a multilateral alliance of mutual inclusivity, dependence and cohesion based on loyalty, sincerity and deference without which the world will be seeing no real peace, freedom, integrity or prosperity. In its part in this historic cooperation, the NC will be supporting and aiding the world states, UN and EU verifying and promoting their work while also overseeing, observing. Not an alternative organization to the UN or EU, the NC does not contend with them, nor does it interfere with their functions or duties; it will be cooperating and co-working with them with its crucial necessity as a buttressing, synergizing and supporting fellow world organization that complements, amplifies, improves, enhances, bolsters and nurtures their work and activities and substantially shares their global tasks and work mutually, with devotion, devoir and respect.

■ Above all predominance in effect, it is the World's Nations who make lands the “lands”, countries the “countries”, states the “states” and sovereigns the “sovereigns”. Peoples’ reign is the basis of democracy and ultimately the mainstay of their states’ authority and power which makes the world’s nations’ might and command indisputable and invincible.

M. M. Karindas

The global humanitarian system is currently on the verge of collapse, inter-state crises are alarmingly escalating, geopolitical tensions are rising with dreadful fragmentation while wars, poverty and famine are devastating our nations and deepening impacts of environmental disasters and climate change are threatening our vulnerable planet. Yet, the world is powerless and incapable of coming together to deal with these appalling conditions or respond their consequences efficiently. The UN, the world’s sole organizational platform for nations to lean on and rely on, in this regard, falls short of radically dealing with this cascade of misery and despair as well as providing nations with a more secure, safer, equitable and prosperous life while the bureaucratic EU’s contribution to solutions ever remains limited. Being left to their fate, vulnerable, unguarded, unprotected, defenseless and divulged, the frustrated nations of the world, with their own Congress, the Nations’ Congress [NC], now come forth to officially asserting themselves making their presence existingly felt and making their say be listened to.

The Nations’ Congress is world’s greatest forefront organization that comes out of nations’ hearts to preserve world peace, humanity, freedom, welfare, integrity, security and prosperity and protect peoples’ health, wellbeing, human rights and civil and rights enabling them to live free from harm, abuse and neglect, and safeguard children and the poor and old and the vulnerable, deprived and underprivileged.

Open to the world public, the Nations’ Congress is the world’s nations’ first ever and only global congressional organ as a governing organization and sanctioning public body run and owned by the world’s nations’ themselves. It is the world’s nations’ own self and entity and the world’s first and only global public organization with a unique and unprecedented identity as literally the “House of the Nations”. With its convening international character of global public reign, it functions as the World Nations’ official independent, non-governmental and non-political enacting body of ordinance and prerogatives.

The Nations of the World today demand that they be included in any discussions, disputes, debates and deliberations of all global and domestic issues that are directly or indirectly linked to them and/or related to the planet.

The world's current long broken universal integrity in every sense primarily results from the UN and EU's non-alignment with their nations and the widening detachment of governments from their peoples. Today, UN delegates and members of the European Parliament (EP) have tasks and duties to do everything for their nations at UN general assemblies and EP sessions, respectively, speaking, conferring and voting there on behalf of them while governments themselves hardly consult their nations or get their true opinions. States never ask their nations what they think about what their representatives talk or vote for at the UN and EP on their behalf.

The UN's current enforcement mechanisms render the organization usually powerless in its main duties including conducting peacekeeping operations, maintaining international peace and security, responding international crises in time, resolving international conflicts effectively, dealing with threats to global peace and security, taking effective climate action, defending civil and human rights, working towards sustainable development and reforming the global governance.

The likes of the UN and EU proximally need the supporting hand and blessing of the World Nations. Filling the hearts of the world's nations with love, hope, friendship, affection, compassion, fellowship, benevolence and humanity, the Nations' Congress develops friendly and sincere relations among nations, promoting social progress, establishing better living standards and improving human rights and civil rights; it works for, fosters and secures the nations' wellbeing, welfare, health, social integrity and prosperity and all humanitarian, social, public, civic, socio-economic, cultural and environmental issues making sure that they have the care, affection, amity and respect they deserve while having their voice heard among themselves and across the world, heartily, fraternally and officially.

■ The world governments are elected, appointed and employed by their nations who, therefore, have the innate and natural right and authority to state their own opinions and decisions on national and international issues related to them.

■ So long as the universal presence of mind we need for tackling the world's continuing series of conflicts and crises is not aligned with the World Nations' collective eye and standpoint, all salutary hard work and praiseworthy efforts in there will continue to be inconclusive and wind up hollow and vain.

M. M. Karindas

Above all predominance in effect, it is the World's Nations who make lands the "lands", countries the "countries", states the "states" and sovereigns the "sovereigns". Peoples' reign is the basis of democracy and ultimately the mainstay of their states' authority and power which makes the world nations' might and command indisputable and invincible.

In the worldwide social, political and geopolitical instability and fragility we are having today through the current atmosphere of war, chaos, conflicts, anxiety, terror, famine and environmental disasters, many nations rightfully demand greater democracy while the peace, welfare, freedom and security they look for has never been reached and the levels of civil and human rights they are longing for has never been elevated enough to ensure worldwide prosperity. All that necessitates building stable, truly democratic and fully happy societies and restoring their civil values to their real dimensions of conformity with absolute serenity, public confidence, peace, freedom, public order, justice, equity and harmony towards our common future of good fortunes and prosperity. Taking that duty as its main task, the NC is the greatest multilateral international organization and the only organization that represents all nations of the world as a whole and above all the likes of UN, EU, AU, etc.

■ To eradicate the epidemics of multi-national conflicts, chaos, war, terror, famine and environmental disasters we live across the world today, we, as the citizens of the world, must put joint efforts more effectively and above substandard. To show that so we can, we must act as a whole, as the whole world, athwart the roots of all tribulations.

The nations of the world in unison, as a whole, for a sustainable and peaceful planet where all people treat each other with amity, respect and dignity.

To eradicate the epidemics of multi-national conflicts, chaos, war, terror, famine and environmental disasters we live across the world today, we, as the citizens of the world, must put joint efforts more effectively and above substandard. To show that so we can, we must act as a whole, as the whole world, athwart the roots of all tribulations.

The Nations' Congress's global balancing power.

The UN was not designed for an unbalanced world of dominant military, economic, social, and political powers where just a few balance-twisting feuding superpowers solely fight for their own interests and prosperities, not necessarily for what their very nations and the rest of the world want or wish for. This is lamentably such a world we live in today, and this is where the Nations' Congress's global balancing power steps in.

States are their nations' protectors and providers, but that is not all's done there.

So long as the universal presence of mind we need for tackling the world's continuing series of conflicts and crises is not aligned with the World Nations' collective eye and standpoint, all salutary hard work and praiseworthy efforts in there will continue to be inconclusive and wind up hollow and vain. Nations demand universal integrity. The true representation of nations anywhere in the world can only be done in alignment with nations themselves and that is essential to a peaceful, happy and secure future of the world.

For the nations of the planet, no longer a world broken down by wars, poverty, famine, violated freedom or human rights, environmental disasters or global health afflictions.

Driven to desperation every day, should nations of the world continue to live in chaos, war poverty, famine and disease while they should rather live in peace, freedom, prosperity and good health? Today, the world nations do not want to live in a world that is riddled with wars and oppression, military conflicts, poverty and famine, violations of freedom and human rights, environmental disasters and grim global health issues, and certainly not with a practically powerless UN that fails to deal with all that effectively or a bureaucratic elitist EU, a similarly ineffective fellow organization, in the same regard, that lacks democratic assurance or certainty. Neither do they want a world where the UN, the praised guardian of world peace and the only protector of the planet, witnesses feuds and clashes among its own member states, and disputes and duels in its own Security Council with which it has constant discordance itself.

■ Opening a new World era of humanitarian public revolution in the history of mankind, the Nations' Congress, the House of the Nations, is the world's largest intergovernmental organization by public volume, capacity and capability, far larger than its fellow world organizations, the UN and EU.

The forefront protector of the people, safeguarding all citizens of the world.

Working for the good and benefit of nations as their official united power and command, the Nations' Congress promotes, supports, protects, restores, secures and preserves their communal, national and universal human rights, civil rights and liberties, democratic rights, freedom, peace, security, , equality, welfare, health, integrity, prosperity, sustainable development and environment as its principal issues in its task and on its statutory agenda.

The nations of the world, with their own Congress, let their cherished planet be no longer unattended or unprotected.

Putting away the world's fear, desperation and frustration, the Nations' Congress brings the world nations together with the world guardians and protectors. Being left to their fate, vulnerable, deprived, unguarded, unprotected, defenseless and divulged, the nations of the world, with their own Congress, the Nations' Congress, now come forth to officially assert themselves making their presence tangibly felt and seen and their voice formally heard.

The crucial emergence of the Nations' Congress upon the ineluctable necessity.

The establishment of the Nations' Congress through a long period of time, has progressively been materialized in the wake of current global happenings and predicaments which the world faces as detrimental realities: The global humanitarian system is on the verge of collapse, inter-state crises are alarmingly escalating, geopolitical tensions are rising with dreadful fragmentation while wars, poverty and famine are devastating our nations and deepening impacts of environmental disasters and climate change are threatening our vulnerable planet. As the world is yet powerless and incapable of coming together to deal with these appalling conditions or respond their consequences efficiently, the UN, the world's sole legitimate organizational platform for nations to lean on, in that regard, has so far proved to be ineffectual and disappointingly suboptimal to get the world out of this cascade of misery and despair, failing to do the necessary to provide nations with a more secure, safer, equitable and prosperous life. And the firmly bureaucratic elitist EU does not do much to contribute to solutions.

Building a better planet, saving the universal integrity and saving the future of the World.

The UN and EU will ever continue to exist as respected world organizations working for the world nations whom they owe their existence; while both remaining counted upon, revered and embraced, they are concurrently expected, in the same way, to objectively show their devotion, faith, benevolence and goodwill to the nations they both essentially belong to, and to consider, appreciate, respect and dignify their views, opinions, preferences, calls, demands, claims and needs. For the UN, EU and the Nations' Congress in unison, this is the non-debatable basis of a true global integrity that is only possible with this multilateral alliance of mutual inclusivity, dependence and cohesion based on loyalty, sincerity and deference without which the world will be seeing no real peace, freedom, integrity or prosperity. In its part of this unison, the Nations' Congress will be supporting and aiding the world states, UN and EU verifying and promoting their work in its capacity while also overseeing, observing, reviewing, monitoring and checking their work, demeanor and performance with counter-control and counterbalance, and counteracts when necessary. The Nations' Congress is not an alternative to the UN or EU, neither does it compete with them, nor does it interfere with their functions or duties; it integrates with them with its crucial necessity as a buttressing, synergizing and supporting fellow organization that complements, amplifies, improves, enhances, bolsters and nurtures their work and activities, and substantially share their tasks and workload mutually and with devotion.

■ All citizens of the world are nationally and internationally entitled to all public, social, civil, cultural, religious, economic and humanitarian rights and privileges equally and regardless of their social, cultural, religious, racial, ethnic or gender status. Communal or personal victimizations of any form or extent inflicted upon them, as neglected, deprived, underprivileged, unprovided, ignored, discriminated, incapacitated, disregarded, wronged, oppressed or aggrieved, will be accounted for and dealt with accordingly by the Nations' Congress, the House of the Nations.

TASKS, FUNCTIONS AND DUTIES

The Nations' Congress works globally, regionally and nationally in every country to promote and support human health, civil and human rights and liberties, peace and freedom to secure and preserve a war-free and conflict-free egalitarian and libertarian world with peaceful nations and happy civil societies living in good health, absolute freedom, peace, integrity, prosperity, solidarity and fraternity with fully-equal welfare, human rights and civil rights free from injustice, inequality, discrimination, prejudice, oppression, transgression, suppression and persecution.

Serving the vulnerable, underprivileged, neglected, deprived, unprovided, incapacitated and disregarded, and protecting and maintaining peoples' rights against injustice, inequity, discrimination, prejudice, oppression and persecution, the Nations' Congress [NC] demands justice and probity for victims whose rightful claims entail mutual substratum for solutions worked-out reciprocally in cooperation and co-action with the liable or responsible parties and holds them accountable within the international rule of law when necessary.

Statutorily set as the world nations' voice and power, the NC fundamentally enfolds all common civil, democratic, humanitarian, cultural and environmental causes that the World's nations mutually share with joint responsibility across the globe, and aids, supports, promotes and champions them equally with no exception or discrimination while also welcoming all national and international organizations and institutions of the same will power and commitment for collaboration on all fronts.

The NC is the greatest multilateral international organization, and the only organization that represents all nations of the world literally as a whole and above all non-governmental, governmental and intergovernmental world organizations including the UN, EU and AU.

With its statutory universal setting, in direct cooperation with the UN and EU, the NC will be taking the duty of ultimately dealing with ever-increasing human rights and civil rights violations and environment-related, social, socio-economical, cultural, health and welfare issues and matters as well as current global adversities and ordeals inflicted upon nations and their underprivileged and ethnic, racial, social, religious, cultural and gender communities or societies across the world. Also, in the NC's union of the world nations, the world's current environmental matters related to environmental problems including climate change, global warming, land, air and water pollution, radioactive/nuclear threats, deforestation, desertification, biodiversity loss, agriculture, natural resource depletion, habitat destruction, soil degradation and environment-related public health issues will strictly be kept on agenda and dealt with through all the avenues of utmost commitment for radical solutions.

■ ALL NATIONS, ONE WORLD We want our planet to become and remain a sincere and compassionate world of smiling faces, caring minds, hugging arms and embracing hearts. The likes of the UN and EU's wonted countenance traditionally falls short to provide such a warm universal medium for a hearty, amicable, compassionate and loving world environment which is the basis for a harmonious world integrity and imperishably consistent world peace. The Nations' Congress now brings the world that property, wealth and worth with a warmhearted,

The NC's work, functions and duties are carried out in two groups:

1. Operational work, functions and duties.
2. Procedural work, functions and duties.

OPERATIONAL WORK

Without involving the Congress' voting procedures, the NC's operational work includes straight functions and duties in which the NC :

1. Supports, aids, promotes and maintains, globally and in every nation, citizens' health, welfare, freedom, peace, prosperity, security and equality.
2. Recognizes, supports, promotes, defends and claims the world nations' fundamental civil, social, cultural and human rights they are unconditionally entitled to by the national and international rules of law.
3. Brings all the nations of the world together in concord, solidarity and unity to improve and secure mutual fraternal relations among all nations with equal rights and integrity.
4. Promotes and encourage international unity and collaboration in social, economic, cultural and environmental spheres.

WORKING WITH AND FOR THE UN AND EU: The NC, as an aiding arm, expects and accepts requests, appeals, calls or invitations from the UN and EU for its consideration, views and opinions, appraisements, considerations with a "Let us first see what the nations say." Approach.

PROCEDURAL WORK

Directly involving the Congress' voting procedures at various levels, the NC's procedural work includes requested and/or submitted formal exchange or sharing of issues to be discussed bilaterally and voted on variably through the NC units accordingly.

Internal NC Submissions: Mostly made by explicit submitters from the public at NC At-Large (NCAL) or NC General Assembly (NCGA) levels, internal submissions containing motions or raw issues including queries, proposals, requests, appeals or claims, get in process almost routinely with unanimous consent, while getting listed in the NC Listing and registered and recorded in the NC Register as well as the submitter's NC profile if applicable. Being made within the NC Community, starting at any of the NC units, internal NC submissions of requests, demands, claims, queries, complaints, etc, involving human-related or nature-related matters or issues, as discussed and voted on, handed to respondents that may be states, state governments or local governments or their agencies, units, departments or organizations; intergovernmental organizations including the UN, EU, AU, etc; public, social or private organizations or institutions; NGOs or civil society groups or organizations or communities; private or governmental companies, corporations, enterprises, etc.

External NC Submissions: External NC Submissions of national, regional or global public human-related or nature-related issues or matters, in forms of request, petition, appeal, demand, claim or consultation, come to the NC, to be discussed and voted on, from states, state governments or local governments or their agencies, units, departments or organizations; intergovernmental organizations including the UN, EU, etc; public, social or private organizations or institutions; NGOs or civil society groups or organizations or communities; private or governmental companies, corporations, enterprises, etc, in order to get the Nations' views, opinions, adjudications or decisions having the respondents as one nation or community, or multiple nations or all nations.

MAIN ISSUES

- PEACE AND FREEDOM: Encouraging respect across nations for each other's rights and freedoms, the NC maintains peace around the world as the world's forefront peace-builder and peacekeeper and develops sincere, friendly and happy relations among nations with amity, with shared mutualism, goodwill, felicity, solidarity, fraternity and prosperity.

- DEMOCRACY: Promoting democracy globally, the NC urges the likes of the UN, EU and AU to get the nations' wishes and their views and opinions on issues before they discuss them internally, thereby keeping the universal integrity and the means and values of democracy which, in turn, secures the future of the world. In its primary role in the development, progress and sustainability of the world democracy, the NC works for multilateralism and participatory democracy ensuring nations' self-determination through their constitutions while monitoring governments' and their institutions' accountability, credibility, transparency and impartiality.
- CIVIL AND HUMAN RIGHTS: As global insecurity currently continues to rise as a result of the world's political and social polarization, with declining civil and humanitarian rights, the NC supports and protects the vulnerable, discriminated, underprivileged, deprived, unprovided, disadvantaged and poverty-stricken indigent people, and carries the duty of making the responsible take the responsibility for their actions, liability and misdeed, and make the law work and justice restore prudently.
- FAMINE AND HUNGER: Acutely responding the emergency levels of famine and hunger, the NC helps all nations work in unison to maintain, sustain and improve the lives of the poor and eliminates famine and hunger. Working with humanitarian organizations, and advocating with and for communities, the NC develops global food programs and agricultural projects and works for prosperity, stability and sustainable development while ensuring equity and access in food, water and medicine for all.
- HEALTH: With and through the WAMS, the World Academy Of Medical Sciences, the NC works to provide the whole world with equally accessible and reachable universal healthcare as an essential of healthier and safer life for all and, for that, establishes a universal free public health system.
- WELFARE: Seeing all citizens of the world on the planet as entitled to the pursuit of peace, freedom, health and happiness, the NC improves nations' lives and make the world a better place to live.
- ENVIRONMENT: Keeping the environmental issues on its agenda as fundamental global subject matters, the NC works towards protected nature, environment and biodiversity as well as complete sanitation, clean water, clean energy, etc.
- SCIENCE AND EDUCATION: Providing global frameworks and developing programs for the science at large, the NC supports, promotes and works for all fields and ranges of science in the interest of all the world nations. Also, fighting illiteracy around the globe, the NC provides all means and conditions for equal education systems globally and works for the development of all levels of education from pre-school to graduate and post-graduate university degrees and standards as well as across and through all scientific and academic gradations.

Taking its duty to support and aid the world states and the UN and EU and their organizations, agencies, units and affiliates verifying and promoting their work in its capacity, the NC watches, inquires, oversees, observes, reviews, scrutinizes, monitors and checks their acts, work, demeanor and performance with rigorous counter-control and counterbalance and uncompromisingly counteracts, questions, summons and calls to account when necessary within the international rule of law.

■ HUMANITARIAN ISSUES

With its most persevering agenda, the NC fosters and revives all available universal means and values that belong to nations, protects human dignity and ameliorates the tainted human rights norms and provides a more secure, peaceful, prosperous, happy, healthy and equitable world for all peoples on the planet.

The international community is unable to resolve today's growing humanitarian crisis. As overwhelming humanitarian crises have been riddling the world while the collapsing global humanitarian system is becoming powerless against escalating humanitarian emergencies and immensely violated human rights, all world states and the UN and EU are displaying incapability in coming together to respond the catastrophe. The NC urges the UN and EU and all states to do their fair share, for the good of humanity, to participate in working on urgent solutions for every part of this global misfortune. In many nations, laws necessary to protect the discriminated, underprivileged, deprived, disadvantaged and poverty-stricken indigent people are either not in place or only minimally enforced; while this directly or indirectly generates injustice, open prejudice, mistreatment or oppression, the victim has no place to go for a remedy. The NC carries the duty of making the responsible take the responsibility for their actions, liability and misdeed, and make the law work and justice restore.

■ SOCIAL, ECONOMIC AND CIVIL ISSUES

The NC urges the UN and EU to get the Nations' wishes and their views and opinions on issues before they discuss them internally. That saves the universal integrity which, in turn, saves the future of the World.

In this world of damaged universal values with rising populism, social divisions and imbalanced globalism, the international community must take unified action to get the fellow nations of the world continue to share the common goals, ideals, expectations, hopes, prospects and destinies in the wake of the colossal social division and fragmentation they find themselves domestically and globally as fateful instruments of interstate rivalry being used for their leaders' political passions and obsessions. The NC holds a weighty main agenda for the world's alarming social and civil issues. As ethnic, social, racial, economic and religious and gender inequity across the world presently goes on with a dramatic rise, the NC mobilizes, with its firm commitment and dedication, the world's nations' all available universal social and civil means and values in order to provide a truly believable social and civil world equity with genuine solidarity and prosperity in modern standards of living.

■ SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT

In sustaining the universal interest of a happy and healthy World Society, the NC upholds and respects international law and rules, and expects all states to do the same which is essential to maintaining the integrity of the world which has been being riddled with wars, poverty, famine , geopolitical crises and environmental disasters. Working with an effective and dynamic Sustainable Development plan, the NC aims to balance and fulfill the needs of world economy, prosperity, integrity, health, security and environment.

The currently worked-on global Sustainable Development Goals whose aim basically enfold peace, prosperity and integrity for people and the planet, are crucially important to build the world's missing full set of peace, prosperity, integrity and security enabling us to preserve the planet, protect human dignity and provide equal opportunities for all the nations of the world to live a healthy and happily flourishing prosperous life. The United Nations' "Sustainable Development Goals for the year 2030", addresses the global challenges mainly including poverty, climate change, biodiversity loss, and the threatened world peace. The effortless unfulfilled connections between the environmental, social and economic aspects, however, makes those ambitious goals unlikely to be met by 2030. In its own task, with its dedicated work, full support and cooperation in sustainable development goals, the NC aims at securing a life for nature and nations in universal harmony and equality where we see good global health and well-being with no poverty or hunger; economic, social, and environmental progress; preserved peace and justice with no inequalities; improved equal education, equal work potentialities and gender equality; clean water and sanitation and affordable clean energy; economic growth, thriving industry, innovation and infrastructure; development of sustainable cities and communities with strong civil institutions; climate and nature consciousness and awareness; and inter-state partnerships and inter-sector synergies in industry and trade.

■ CLIMATE, NATURE AND ENVIRONMENT

The world's current climate crisis has been extending beyond climate-vulnerable regions with its escalating impacts of the continuing climate change and biodiversity loss leaving irreversible destruction on our planet.

The health and prosperity of our planet depends on absolute ecological integrity which, in turn, provides us with a full planetary integrity which needs to be supported and maintained through long-term sustainability. The current biodiversity loss and the depletions in our planet's ecosystem is threatening our global integrity. The NC supports and urges the world states and UN, EU and AU as well as national and international NGOs to take immediate measures to de-accelerate the crisis and radically do the necessary to overcome all of the related adversities and disasters. Having sustainable development and protection of the environment as fundamental issues of on its agenda while helping developing countries reach their climate goals, the NC works towards protected nature, environment and biodiversity, complete sanitation, clean water and clean energy.

■ GLOBAL HEALTH ISSUES

While aiming at providing the whole world with equally accessible and reachable universal healthcare as an essential of healthier and safer life for all, the NC and WAMS emphasize that the health, welfare and survival of all citizens of the world is totally relied upon the unity, support and embracement of the international community, and declare that every underprivileged citizen of the planet affected by healthcare inequity or injustice and every patient deprived of healthcare anywhere in the world must be made entitled to immediate full access to every element of basic health services. While ensuring that that entitlement and its practice is conformed with universally as a basic human right, the NC and the WAMS, the World Academy Of Medical Sciences hold any related misconduct, abuse or violation, or any failure of conformity accountable and react accordingly.

Our planet is facing a multitude of tragic health issues in deprived and marginalized populations today; more than 5 billion people, the two thirds of the world population, do not receive the healthcare they need; around 10 million people, 4 million of them children, die every year from treatable diseases, hunger or hunger-related causes; around 2 billion people, mostly children, are severely undernourished and/or ill; tens of millions of people are currently on the brink of death suffering from infectious diseases or being affected by wars, food, medicine and water insecurity and inequality and nuclear threats, climate change, etc.

Undertaking all duties related to the NC's global health issues as its parent institution, the WAMS represents, supports and promotes universal medicine while providing and developing the best conditions for universal healthcare putting all its means and efforts professionally, scientifically and academically in:

- Making universal medicine and global healthcare accessible to every citizen of the world and fighting health inequities, eliminating barriers of inequality and marginalization in nations' health systems across the world.
- Making health emergencies possible in every part of the world through surveillance, monitoring, management and action.
- Making access to essential medicines unconditionally possible for all.
- Ensuring national and international disease protection and management.
- Providing ideal sanitation and hygiene conditions for all.
- Developing a free Universal Healthcare system (The NC Healthcare Network) where the vulnerable deprived, underprivileged, unprovided, discriminated and disadvantaged will nationally and internationally be provided with free primary and preventive healthcare including full medical treatment and surgery services and facilities.

■ INTERNATIONAL PEACE, SECURITY AND STABILITY

The NC constructs social, cultural and economic bond and promotes tolerance between all nations and supports human liberties, social, cultural and economic development, peace, and the international rule of law. As the painted likeness of a long wished-for genuinely-universal "world peace" is seemingly defined and imposed by the dominant partners of global power and expected to be lived by the rest of the world, the true world peace is yet to be taking its place struggling through the diversified and contentious players of the collapsing humanitarian system, the alarmingly escalating geopolitical tensions and the ominously accumulating inter-state crises.

It is the world nations' incontestable communal and transmutual duty to reshape and reform the world to make it a peaceful, secure, happy, healthy and free planet of dignity, integrity, equality and prosperity.

GLOBAL FREEDOM, PEACE AND SECURITY With their power, resolution and self-preservation, and with the help of the International Community, the World Nations now maintain and secure their freedom, peace, equality, justice and safety they have long been deprived of and live on a peaceful, just and healthy planet where everybody is content, equal, safe and happy in liberty and fraternity. This base of integrity has now been fully ensured by all available universal means with the Nations' Congress, the nations' own self, which takes its part of duty in bringing all that long-missed collective ideality into reality without obstacles.

In maintaining the world peace and security, the frustrated UN and EU are alone and desperate, and so are the states while NGOs are commonly powerless and ineffectual in the same regard. Now, with the NC, today's all global challenges and crises will be dealt with comprehensively, scrutinously and successfully. As the protector and preserver of international peace and security, the NC secures human dignity and integrity, establishes peace, prevents conflicts, making the responsible and accountable show compromise and provides every people everywhere in the world with means and conditions for freedom, peace, health, equality, fraternity, solidarity and prosperity. While the world nations need a sustainable and peaceful planet where all people treat each other with respect and dignity, no sustainability or prosperity will be achieved without peace for which the international community must act truly and seriously in unity.

■ GEOPOLITICAL ISSUES

Today's rising geopolitical tensions across the world alarmingly affect the world's protective multilateral inter-governmental system leading to continuous geopolitical fragmentation between states which are perseveringly resistant to coming together to respond the situation. The NC, as the the nations' voice and international intermediary power, is committed to build a nations-based interstate setting to solve the tensions and prevent further conflicts in that regard inducing compromise and establishing a universal platform for sustainable peace.

■ DIPLOMATIC ISSUES

The cascading impacts of the escalating divisions in international diplomacy and cooperation along with the rising geopolitical tensions taint international peace and security alarmingly. The NC Ambassadors to the world states and State Ambassadors to the NC, who make up the basis of the NC's global diplomacy front, will interchangeably be sharing the superlative duty of solving the issues and problems with the support of the set of secured genuine interstate relations across the NC-fostered global multilateral system.

■ POLITICAL ISSUES

Totally politics-free in itself, the Nations' Congress cultivates minimally-politicized nations in its network structure towards building rather self-civil-oriented societies in truly-democratic peaceful humanitarian molds with no politically-motivated disconformities, inequalities or discrepancies.

While diplomatic, like the UN and EU, the NC, unlike the UN and EU, has no political functions, duties or agendas of any kind at any extent or level. When required or necessary, however, it technically intervenes in:

1. Politically motivated global, regional and national issues of the Nations' interests,
2. Issues of the Nations' interests with political consequences,
3. Issues of the Nations' interests complicated by political factors or elements,
4. Issues of the Nations' interests made involved in political issues, matters or affairs.

■ THE HOME OF NATIONS AND CITIZENS ■

Effectively dealing with nations' overlooked critical international issues of human rights and civil rights, global health, global sustainable development and environment through the international system can only be possible by the nations' own power.

The NC brings all nations with all their citizens together under its universal roof, embracing them all, getting them connected and partner up with each other and having them relate to one another. Brought together, from the general public to business people and professionals, from world leaders to scientists and industrialists, and from celebrities to philanthropists and luminaries alike, they talk over and discuss what the world wants, requires or needs and join hands, combine forces, cooperate and collaborate in response, and do what to do in accordance and conformity. Including statesmen, politicians, world leaders, governors, mayors, legislators, bureaucrats, civil servants, public servants, diplomats, scholars, students, academics, scientists, clerics, religious leaders, movie stars, entertainers, musicians, TV and media Personalities, celebrities, sportspeople, writers, reporters, news anchors, journalists, military leaders, military officers, soldiers, veterans, internationally known famous, high-ranking and preeminent people, distinguished public figures, philanthropists, charity leaders, benefactors, celebrities, luminaries, socialites, campaign leaders, community leaders, Human Rights and Civil Rights workers, advocates and activists and campaigners, world entrepreneurs, global industrialists, business and industry leaders, influential world business people, distinguished global business leaders, prominent national and international business leaders and labor leaders, this formation of unified arms at the NC's home of fraternity establishes absolute fellowship and amity among all and cohesions between what they do for mankind and what they achieve for the world; here, Elon Musk can present his new space program or new car model to all nations of the world letting them see, note and comment; Microsoft's introduction of a new software application or technology to the world can be done here to get the world's views and opinions; a best-selling book's author or the producer of a new movie can let the world know about it and rate it; a group of state officials can talk to their own nation and the whole world about their proposed UNESCO-sponsored public humanitarian program and invite all to participate in it; a group of Hollywood stars and celebrities can invite all citizens of the world to participate in their international charity project; a Shell executive can talk the Canadian Eskimos face to face and explain them why they caused environmental damage in their homeland and tell them how hard they are working now to repair it; a world-renowned industrialist can personally tell and assures a complaining Amazon nation that his companies will no longer be doing harm to their forests.

Trade Unions and Labor Power: Rightful labor movements with solidarity actions during major labor disputes frequently lead to union violence which can go as far as labor riots or industrial or even civil unrest especially in industrial nations that already have long violent and bloody labor history. When typically characterized by strong labor militancy, labor movements far too often cause trade unionists to get victimized by repressive governments which also stoke up anti-union movements to equilibrate. While unreservedly respecting trade unions' endeavors to universally defend, keep and advance labor, trade union and human rights, the NC globally encourages all labor and trade unions, federations, confederations and groups to minimize or even totally leave their excessive and aggressive street acts and movements. As one of the most important main issues on its agenda, the NC encourages absolute Global Street Peace with total global elimination of harsh open civil movements and street acts and officially deals with their demands, claims and requests for them in formal bureaucratic ways radically resolving their issues and solving their problems at their sources by using its correlative means, resources, authority and power upon its related tasks and responsibilities.

■ ORGANIZATIONS AND INDUSTRIES UNDER THE NC'S GLOBAL ROOF ■

The world's incapability in coming together to respond current global humanitarian crises is practically the result of the non-alignment, disharmony and disunity in today's dysfunctional global system which is failing to fully manage global peacebuilding and becoming powerless to protect humanity and incompetent to maintain human dignity, prosperity and security.

As a colossal universal NC platform of blending and amalgamating organizational, industrial, corporate, scientific and institutional groups (NC Groups) [see NC Groups], an essential part of the NC, all governmental, inter-governmental and non-governmental international organizations, institutions, universities, colleges and educational and scientific institutions, global religious communities and groups, international corporate groups and enterprises, international industrial and non-industrial corporations, national and international community and charity groups and social groups, etc, have an important crucial role in defining and determining the forms, characters, identities and circumstances of particular and specific global challenges and humanitarian crises which so far has not been effectively dealt with by the international community or by the global system; they discuss situations, conditions, causes, reasons and consequences sharing and exchanging data, information, views and opinions and work in cooperation and alignment towards collaboration, solutions and remedies. They also have the means, convenience, occasions and scopes and opportunities to mutually submit, talk, discuss and solve their own matters and issues with exchange of ideas, views and information. In order to have all the NC

Groups, in that regard, work, function and act integrally, in harmony, dynamism and unison and also effectively, which is critically fundamental for the NC's endeavorment, the NC provides its universal roof for them all plenarily and unstintedly.

■ THE NC-UN-EU UNISON WITH STATES ■

In maintaining the world peace and security, the UN and EU are desperate, and so are the world states while, in the same regard, many nations are dissatisfied with their governments, and NGOs are commonly powerless and ineffectual. Now, with the NC, today's all global challenges and crises will be dealt with comprehensively, scrupulously and successfully.

In one of its main tasks, the NC unites with the UN, EU and states with its crucial necessity as a buttressing, synergizing and supporting fellow organization that complements, amplifies, improves, enhances, bolsters and nurtures their work and activities and substantially shares their tasks and workload mutually in general terms filling the gaps in their global missions. While not competing with them or interfering with their functions or duties, the NC checks, observes and controls the functions, duties and activities of the UN and EU and other similar major international organizations like the African Union (AU) and all states in order to secure their devotion, faith, benevolence and goodwill to their nations and make sure that they also see to nations' views, opinions, preferences, calls, demands, claims and needs with respect and dignity. That, in this NC-UN-EU unison, is the non-debatable basis of a true global integrity and equity that is only possible with this multilateral alliance of mutual inclusivity, dependence and cohesion based on loyalty, sincerity and deference without which the world will be seeing no real peace, freedom, impartiality or prosperity. In its part of this unison, the NC will be supporting and aiding the UN and EU and states verifying and promoting their work in its capacity and while also overseeing, observing, reviewing, monitoring and checking their work, demeanor and performance with counter-control and counterbalance, and counteracts and calls in question and/or brings to account when ineluctably necessary.

■ The NC is not an opponent or alternative to the UN, EU or AU; it does not compete with them, neither does it interfere with their functions, work, duties or activities. It integrates with them with its crucial necessity as a buttressing, synergizing and supporting fellow organization that complements, amplifies, improves, enhances, bolsters and nurtures their work and activities and shares their tasks, work and duties mutually and with devotion reducing their workload substantially.

■ EMBRACNG ALL NATIONS

There is no intergovernmental organization in the world today that represents all nations of the world in any regard. Attending the UN's General Assemblies or European Parliament sessions and talk there on behalf of their countries without knowing what their nations say, does not make UN delegates or EP members their countries' true representatives. While representing all nations of the world by itself, the NC also takes the duty of enabling them to become their nations true representatives at the UN and as well.

■ In many nations, current state laws to protect and help underprivileged, deprived and vulnerable people are minimally enforced or not effectively functional, or not in place at all.

■ SETTING THE UNIVERSAL HUMANITARIAN SYSTEM

The NC will openheartedly be working in cooperation and unity with major international intergovernmental organizations primarily including the UN, EU and AU and with all state governments across the world and also in cooperation with national and international non-governmental organizations, institutions, systems, groups and professional and civic communities whose work, functions, duties and activities involve human-rights, civil-rights and environmental, social, socio-economic, public, civic and cultural issues.

■ GOVERNMENTAL RELATIONS

While keeping its mutual collaborations with governments for international peace and security and for the good of mankind, the NC does not engage in any direct deals, agreements or contracts with governments via their states' NC membership (NC State Membership) or externally per the point that any such pattern of relations would unintentionally ascribe the status of nations' NC representation to governments while the NC's rules in that regard allow state representation at the NC to be performed only by state-appointed official state ambassadors (State Ambassadors to the NC) who are, per se, not primarily their nations' representatives.

■ THE NATIONS' CONGRESS's GLOBAL SYSTEM

As the world's fast-growing trans-state structure of interconnected and interdependent economic, commercial, political and legal systems, as well as business enterprises and organizations gets carried away with harsh patterns of decision-making, monitoring, adjudication, implementation policymaking and goal-setting in managing the world issues turning the planet's intended multilateralism into a combat of globalization with excessive power shifts, complexity and inequality, the NC encompassingly facilitates all nations' interactions and restores peoples' long-lost coalescence beyond borders in order to remake the world with an ensured truly-balanced, uniform and dignified "Global System".

■ On this planet, no one should die from deprivation, hunger or treatable diseases, neither should they innocently perish in wars, persecution or atrocity; if they do, then we all are guilty. M. M. Karindas

■ IMPROVING NATIONS' HEALTH AND LIVING CONDITIONS AND STANDARDS

Through its parent institution, the WAMS, the World Academy of Medical Sciences, the NC develops and promotes full optimum healthcare standards and best living conditions for every citizen of the world. Unlike the hard-faced UN and EC, the warmhearted NC, with its foundation of sincere, friendly and happy relations among nations with amity, shared mutualism, goodwill, cheer, compassion and prosperity, is an unequivocal and ingenuous organization building a sustainable and peaceful planet with universal integrity where all people treat each other with respect and dignity into a bright prosperous future for all.

■ ENSURING UNIVERSAL EQUILIBRIUM

Ensuring universal transparency, public accountability and maintaining the moral and ethical values for world peace, democracy, justice, freedom, welfare and environment within and among all nations of the world, the NC brings the world community together to jointly work to provide and secure a truly ideal global state of living together in peace, unity, fraternity, integrity, solidarity and humanity.

■ SETTING THE UNISON THE WORLD NEEDS

So long as the universal presence of mind we need for tackling the world's continuing series of conflicts and crises is not aligned with the World Nations' collective eye and standpoint, all salutary hard work and praiseworthy efforts in there continue to be inconclusive and wind up hollow and vain. The NC now sets the crucially needed world unison to establish an abiding peace-building and crisis-solving equilibrium with world integrity, prosperity, justice and security.

■ RESTORING STREETS WORLDWIDE TO PEACE AND TRANQUILITY

No more excessive or exaggerative demonstrations on streets anywhere in the world; and no more aggressive or combative street acts or movements across the globe.

Street demonstrations, rallies, marches and riots are no way of having voices heard or demands met. Violated rights can not be taken back by violated order; they ought to be restored only by the power of peace, courtesy, respect and grace.

M.M. Karindas

A peace that comes by street force can not be embraced as a heartily earned true peace. Peaceful civil street acts anywhere in the world are more than ten times more likely to generate expected results than violent ones.

In our civilized world, universal peace starts from peaceful streets where there should be no such a thing as so-called corrective street action. The NC rebuilds the world with streets of peace and quiet by putting an end to excessive and aggressive street acts and movements and clearing the streets off violent protests, boycotts, demonstrations, rallies, marches and riots. Protesting, rallying or marching in streets for any demand or claim, even for peace, is no peace and nothing for peace. Peace can not be brought about or provided through harsh open public acts or carried-away street movements and never by way of disrupted public order. Organizations, institutions, civil or social groups or persons no longer need to take streets to have their voice heard; the NC officially deals with their demands, claims and requests for them radically resolving their issues at their sources by using its correlative means, resources, authority and power upon its related tasks and responsibilities.

■ The NC does not campaign, rally, march, boycott or protest, neither does it support, defend or justify any peoples or groups' such actions; it deals with issues and matters, for all, officially, directly and forthright, and solves them formally and pacifically at the source.

In its structural global network, the NC strictly forbids extreme street movements of any kind; any organizations, institutions, groups or persons who impose their demands via violent and rebellious street acts will globally be black-listed and banned by the NC and denied of any cooperation, alliance or collaboration with the NC or any of its parts or units or any of its allies or associates indefinitely.

One of the most important main issues the NC keeps on its agenda is absolute Global Street Peace with total global elimination of harsh open civil movements and street acts.

The NC does not directly or indirectly support, promote or sponsor local, national, regional or international street movements or campaigns of any kind including in particular:

- Civil disobedience and resistance movements of any kind
- Aggressive and/or provocative public or group assemblies
- Non-silent mass or community/group demonstrations
- Non-silent mass or community/group street protests
- Non-passive boycotts
- Non-silent mass or group sit-ins
- Aggressive and/or provocative mass or community/group rallies, marches
- Aggressive and/or provocative community/group strikes
- Election campaigns of any kind.

■ HELPING THE NATIONS IN NEED

Our planet is facing a multitude of tragic health issues in deprived and marginalized populations today.

Every single day around 1 billion people, most of them children, go to bed on an empty stomach; more than 5 billion people, the two thirds of the world population, do not receive the healthcare they need; around 10 million people, 4 million of them children, die every year from hunger and hunger-related causes; around 2 billion people, mostly children, are severely undernourished and/or ill; tens of millions of people are currently on the brink of death suffering from infectious diseases or being affected by wars, food, medicine and water insecurity and inequality and nuclear threats, climate change, etc.

Being left to their fate, vulnerable, unprotected, defenseless and divulged while they should rather live in peace, freedom, prosperity and good health, the nations-in-need get help from the Nations' Congress which generates revenues for them while also fully mobilizing its own means and instruments as well as that of the world community practically.

■ THE WORLD BELONGS TO ITS PEOPLE

It is fundamental for the World to have the World Nations' own views, voice and power as well as their warrant, opinions, sentiments and decisions on all nature- and mankind-related matters and issues that relates to them, and there can be no power across or against it as the World belongs to them.

■ THE WORLD'S NATIONS' MANKIND POWER

The World's nations' unique mankind power that delivers social, civil and democratic self-balance and counterbalance together within.

■ MAKING THE INTERNATIONAL RULE OF LAW WORK FOR THE VICTIMS OF INEQUITY AND INJUSTICE

In many nations, laws necessary to protect the discriminated, underprivileged, deprived, disadvantaged and poverty-stricken indigent people are either not in place or only minimally enforced and, in most, not comprehensive at all; while this directly or indirectly generates injustice, open prejudice, mistreatment or oppression, the victim has no place to go for a remedy. The NC takes the duty of making the responsible take the responsibility for their actions, liability and misdeed, and make the law work and justice restore with immediate effect.

■ ELIMINATING RACISM ACROSS THE WORLD

The NC takes the duty of radically eliminating racism across the world by working one-to-one with all world states making them:

- Set related specific and proper laws and policies and practice them without bias or prejudice,
- Create national action plans applied comprehensively,
- Educate people accordingly and let them take part in action plans,
- Spare no tolerance to racist acts or activities and punish them unconditionally with no reservation.

■ SOLVING THE WORLD'S IMMIGRATION PROBLEMS

Today's wars, interstate conflicts, political and ethnic persecutions, economic inequalities, food insecurity and climate change have been making tens of millions of people leave their homes and countries in the hope of finding life and safety elsewhere. The consequences of global immigration crisis pose deep global impact leading to human tragedies that cause loss of lives, ruined families, social tensions and polarization and even threatened democracies. Securing and protecting migrants' rights, the NC works to solve global immigration crisis within an internationally shared multifaceted and integrated work pattern eliminating the origins of main causes of immigration, preventing underlying factors, enforcing and fortifying interstate cooperation while promoting tangible coordination and dialogue between states, related NGOs, civil communities and private enterprise.

The NATIONS' CONGRESS

The UN, EU, BRICS, G20 and G7

The UN, the world's sole organizational platform for nations to lean on, in that regard, falls short of its goals and the world's expectations. The UN makes every praised effort to get the world out of this cascade of misery and despair often to no avail and it remains underpowered to provide nations with a more secure, safer, equitable and prosperous world while the EU contributes to the solutions scantily. Being the greatest multilateral international organization, and the only organization that literally represents all nations of the world as a whole and above all organizations of the world including the UN and EU, the Nations' Congress improves the world's major intergovernmental organizations' relations with all the nations of the world to the highest level possible and in full range by putting nations' needs, demands and expectations across, and buttressing and supporting them as fellow organizations and synergizing with them primarily including the UN and EU and complementing, amplifying, improving, bolstering and nurturing their work and activities in that regard, and substantially sharing their tasks and workload and directly undertaking required tasks and doing related work when necessary while also monitoring them.

■ The world's long broken current universal integrity partly results from the politically intergovernmental UN, EU's non-alignment with nations and governments' detachment from their peoples. So long as state representatives do not take their nations' wishes, opinions and demands with them when they attend UN General Assemblies and European Parliament sessions where they take part without the voice of their people, the world will continue to grow away from shared universal dignity, peace, prosperity and security.

The self-regulating supranational, non-governmental, non-intergovernmental and non-political Nations' Congress is the greatest pillar of the world's inter-state global system and it surpasses the other three, the UN, NATO and EU in terms of global public impact, caliber, capacity and status. The three, contrarily political and intergovernmental organizations which the world leans on, have their member states carry their own governmental politics there and do their work heavily based on that. State governments promote and process the matters and materials of their own politics at the UN, NATO and EU attaching them to world issues and transforming them into global politics. This is not the way to run a global system of peace, freedom, equality, security, dignity and integrity.

■ State representatives at the UN and the members of the European Parliament represent their states which, in turn, represent their nations. The nations, however have the knowledge of about only a fraction of their governments' national and international public and state policies and they hardly have any idea what their representatives demand and vote for on their behalf at the UN General assemblies or European Parliament sessions. States' true representation of their nations can not be done without national consent or knowledge.

Reasonable extent of political reflection and emphasis may be seen as a duly necessary part of work at the UN, NATO and EU, but that should not go so far as to make these three blessed houses of the planet the political playgrounds of the governments. One of the chief tasks among the main duties of the Nations' Congress is to make these three forefront organizations of world peace, freedom and security reasonably politics-free.

The UN, EU and AU represent their member states, not necessarily their nations states; their representatives are the representatives of their administrative authorities not the actual voice of their nations. That makes many nations on this planet unattended even unowned in terms of freedom, integrity, prosperity and security. The UN-member states' delegates at the UN and the members of the European Parliament (EP) practically represent their governments, which, in turn, act at the UN and EP totally on behalf of their nations. Views, issues, demands, points, requests and queries they express or speak about at the UN General Assembly or the EP , however, in practical terms, do not always belong to their nations who usually do not have any knowledge of what their governments are doing at assemblies or what they vote for. Nations get hold of information or details only when the impacts of outcomes, as rulings, resolutions, actions or implementations, are substantial enough to appear in mass media, and only a fraction of them get known to the public before they are brought to the general assembly. In either case, they do not always reflect the nations' opinions, views, wishes or preferences. The UN, EU and AU today meet or satisfy only the %10 of the nations' own firsthand needs, demands or expectations.

■ The UN was not designed for an unbalanced world of dominant military, economic, social, and political powers where just a few balance-twisting feuding superpowers solely fight for their own interests and prosperities, not necessarily for what their very nations and the rest of the world want or wish for. This is lamentably such a world we live in today, and this is where the

Without the United Nations, the world would be a much more chaotic and unstable place and international cooperation on issues of global importance, such as humanitarian aid, climate change, economic development, and conflict resolution, would be much more difficult to achieve. While keeping its great-power coordination and handling many issues of global order with the world's trust and confidence today, however, the UN, with its Security Council, has weakness in fulfilling nations' global visions and expectations and in meeting their needs, demands or exigencies. Despite having nations' solid trust and full confidence incomparably higher than all other multilateral world organizations, there is a considerable public belief that it does not do the things in the way it should as it consistently fails in taking actions or finding solutions for complex and multifaceted global crises and challenges it faces to deal with. There are overt and obvious reasons for that with common explanations. But what the world wants is solutions and remedies which will not be routinely possible to see so long as the organization continues to remain an introverted nonconcurrent union of states that is incommunicable to the world at large which is the very self of the nations of the planet.

In the wake of the UNSC's inability to prevent world conflicts, the frustrated world nations do not want to see a desperate UN in weakness, incompetence, ignorance, and unfitness in its global task to handle world crises and challenges. Neither do they want a world where the UN, the praised guardian of world peace and the only protector of the planet, witnesses feuds and clashes among its members, and disputes and duels in its own Security Council with which it has constant discordance itself having its member states ignore global conflicts and value politics over the people and having its authority and power rely on the fervor of the member states, typically including the dominant ones like the US, Russia and China.

The UN, as a forefront world organization, does not have a straight democratic form with genuine communal elements as it basically represents the interests and objectives of the member states, not necessarily or straightly the exact needs, necessities or demands of the nations themselves. Many decisions taken by the United Nations fail to solve issues that primarily involve peoples and affect their welfare and integrity.

The UN comes under strong criticism for various reasons, including its principles, policies and philosophy, its equilibrium of representation and equalization, its administrative configuration, its ability to enforce its rulings, enforcing its charter, the "Charter of the United Nations". It is further, and often unfairly, accused by public or political leaders or activists, etc, of not supporting communities' movements or programs that address or relate to civil or humanitarian issues, matters or conflicts.

The arch-point now remains as the fact that the UN urgently needs a well-rounded universal reform in a global scale of public devotion. In order to materialize that, it should first proclaim and vibrantly demonstrate its ponderance and stately power, authority and ability to stand by its ideology, policies, candor, objectivity and enforce its rulings and implementations tangibly, fairly and justly.

UN Security Council

The peacebuilding and peacekeeping UN has its unique enforcement power substantially limited by the veto power of its own Security Council, which it founded to make its enforcement power more effective and tangible. This ironic fact casts a shadow over not only its integrity but also its reliability.

The continuous global criticism of the UN's weak integrity is based on the fact that its most important organizational flaw is the outdated composition of its security council (UNSC) which poses an existential threat to the long term credibility in world peace. The UNSC's veto power has been criticized for its controversial nature since the day of its establishment. A single country can prevent a majority of the Security Council from taking any action. The five permanent members Council, China, France, Russia, the United Kingdom, and the United States, the world's five greatest nuclear powers, are seen by the world as the UN Elites' supreme club which is an unchecked ironclad body whose power or decision can be checked, disputed, challenged or questioned by no any other power in the world. Unlike the General Assembly, the UNSC does not duly represent the UN member countries or their nations or states; it addresses the strategic interests and political motives of the permanent members, rather than the good of the countries as afflicted sides. This poses a constant deadlock in multi-nation humanitarian issues and matters turning them into world-threatening conflicts.

■ The NC will be working towards a reformation of the UNSC making its executive authority just, fair and equitable and more absorbable and embraceable by the nations of the world.

European Parliament

In the wake of radical populism in Europe, the poisoning political polarization and radical partisanship jauntily practiced at the European parliament makes the nations of Europe the victims of the consequential crashing impact on the integrity and prosperity of the continent which mediately affect the globe.

The current structural form of the bureaucratic EU, a unique economic and political union, undermines the member countries' sovereignty, as widely known, with its lacks of democratic coherence and transparency. The party-political European Parliament, further, makes the union politically more unstable and unrealistic. The Parliament is currently rather a political battleground designed for self-centered politicians and parties whose political desires, passions and ambitions outweigh the needs or interests of the nations of Europe. The hard partisanship at the parliament affects the intended composition of the union distinctly and member states' party groups take the political radicalism of the EP arena also back to their nations whose political will or views are not really or necessarily carried to the floor of the parliament.

■ The NC will be working towards the elimination of political polarization and partisanship from the European Parliament.

The NC in the GLOBAL SYSTEM

■ The NC clears the table off the world epidemics of unfair and unjust economic and political globalization games, in which many have been being persuaded to take part, and it sweeps out all world-dominating uneven and unequal elements of economic, social, legal, cultural, technological, scientific, commercial, political and industrial mechanics to rightly be replaced by the ones that are favored and embraced by the world at large. ■

The current internationalized formation of the globe, with its intrinsically interconnected and interdependent economic, social, cultural, legal, technological, scientific, commercial, political and industrial systems, as well as business enterprises and organizations, provides the planet with a fast-growing global governance of trans-state structure where some more-than-mutual cooperation in decision-making, policymaking, goal-setting, management of world issues, monitoring, adjudication and implementation forces the intended multilateralism into a combat of globalization with excessive power shifts, complexity and inequality. So long as the same care and concern is not given to the social, cultural, environmental and humanitarian fronts in the same global system with full political, diplomatic, economic, scientific, technological, industrial and ecological support, the whole world will remain doomed to a total instability. Towards that, the NC encompassingly facilitates all nations' interactions and restores peoples' long-lost coalescence beyond borders in order to remake the world with an ensured truly-balanced, uniform and dignified "Global System".

A true global system should embrace every country and all the nations of the world unconditionally and include all of their, economic, social, cultural, legal, technological, scientific, commercial, political, industrial and ecological structures considering and including all their related aspects without exception. As its leading policymaking and rule-changing players', however, do not often think so, changing and transforming its texture and characteristics for their own interests and putting negative effects on all fronts, its meaning and functionality gets damaged and it becomes harmful to the vulnerable.

NATIONS' ECONOMY, TRADE AND INDUSTRY POWER

While ever-growing industrial technological advancements today are substantially improving the lives of nations across the world, empowering economy and contributing to larger communal benefits globally, the traditionally-essential and indispensable commercial, industrial and technological collaboration between the private and public sectors alone is no longer adequate without working hand-in-hand with the world nations. Without nations' participation and embracement in that collaboration, the betterment of society at large in global sense with higher public prosperity or welfare standards is no longer entirely possible. Today, in making the world science, technology, industry and commerce shape the future of the world for nations with promoting technologies, sharing and exchanging information, developing laws, rules and regulations, the obvious full-scale interwoven alignment with nations' participation based upon their needs, views, perspectives, opinions and choices is absolute and essential.

With its global corporate, enterprise, trade and industry groups and commissions at its Supreme Council and High Assembly, the NC gathers and mobilizes the world's private and public business, trade and industry corporations, companies, groups and organizations alike, in a whole range, from the world's major players to all others, and facilitates their business relations and match their, work, actions, activities and movements.

NC's THINK TANK FORCE

For its European and global research and advocacy fronts in economic, social, civil, cultural, humanitarian, environmental, trade, industrial, labor, scientific and technological policies, studies and strategies, the NC will be employing and/or collaborating with independent non-governmental international public policy institutions which will be variably functioning as the NC's primary executive public policy departments or special independent public policy commissions and groups at the NC's Supreme Council and High Assembly:

1. European Public Policies: Only one selected leading major European public policy institution will be granted the executive position for undertaking the NC's public policy functions, duties and activities for Europe as the NC's European Public Policy Institution (EPPI). The EPPI will also be leading the NC's Global Public Policies wing.

Global Public Policies: With the leadership of the EPPI, the NC will be allowing a limited number of highly selected leading international think tank institutions in its public policy entities. Those global public policy institutions (GPPI) will also be taking place at the NC Supreme Council and NC High Assembly as executive commissions and groups.

STRUCTURE

■ The supraglobal NC should have been founded long before the UN, most properly before WW1; it would then have prevented the two World Wars and made the world a planet of peace and security with equal life for all nations and their citizens with unrestrained human progress in full freedom, health, integrity, prosperity, dignity, solidarity and fraternity.

M. M. Karindas

The NC, the Nations' Congress, is the world's Congress of Nations and the world's nations' governing power and sanctioning authority that surpasses and superimposes on the functional capacities of the likes of the UN and EU. Not an alliance or organization per se, it is the world's nations' own self and entity. With its unique convening international character of absolute global public reign, power and authority, it functions as the World Nations' official independent, non-political, non-governmental but non-politically intergovernmental and jurisdictional enacting body of ordinance and prerogatives. Its structure is solely based upon the world's nations' own being, consonance, unity and integrality as a whole with all of their citizens as its inherent members

The origin: Conceiving the idea of the Nations' Congress first in the year 2000, Dr. M. M. Karindas, the president of the World Academy Of Medical Sciences started the early beginning of the global NC initiative as a nations-oriented universal platform of humanitarian, environmental and health issues to deal with poverty, famine, human health, human rights and protection of nature, mobilizing all the means and resources of the WAMS for it. While all of the reached-out governments of nations at the time unanimously agreed with it and expressed their unconditional full support, their comprehensive grasp of the essence of the NC's crucial unprecedented world entity took two long decades during which the tireless efforts fell relatively short to generate targeted outcomes adequately until 2020 when the and vigorous period of tenacious work started to come to fruition with fully-fledged dynamism making the NC now the world's greatest mankind entity.

Incorporated with the “World Academy Of Medical Sciences” [WAMS] as its founding institute and parent organization, and along with the “NC Executive Council” as its administrative authority, the NC structurally consists of seven principal units including two sanctioning bodies, the “World Senate” (WS) and the “NC Supreme Council” (NCSC) as its ruling units; two enacting assemblies, the “NC High Assembly” (NCHA) and “NC General Assembly” (NCGA) as its legislative units; two Organizational Councils, the “NC NGOs Council” (NGOs World Council) and the “NC Labor Unions Council” (Labor Unions World Council) as its executive advisory units; the “NC Judicial House” (NCJH) as its independent judicial unit; and the “NC Assembly At Large” [NC At Large] (NCAL) as its open collective public unit.

I. RULING BODIES

The NC's two principal bodies, the World Senate (WS) and the NC Supreme Council (NCSC) the NC's two Upper Houses, make up the, the bicameral ruling part of its structure.

1. The World Senate WS [The Nations' Senate]

The senate decides or rules on issues and motions that come from and passed by the Supreme Council as "ascending" issues and motions. All officially final, non-debatable and non-vetoable, the Senate decisions, rulings and resolutions, may also be self-originated or On ascending issues and motions, its decisions and rulings are usually confirmative as formality being passed without deliberation. Its own descending issues and motions are also usually accepted by the lower houses or units confirmatively. The NC’s centerpoint and central upper house and sanctioning body, the NC Supreme Council, [NCSC] is the central issue-generating, decision-making, motion-proposing and ruling authority.

The NCSC comprises innately and exclusively appointed 6600 members who are high-profile, world-renown and world-respected people and personalities popularly known to the world public socially and/or professionally; world’s most distinguished and popular people that come from the nations’ governmental, civic, social and professional circles; currently working executives at government ministries, departments, bodies, agencies or offices; state ambassadors to the NC, NC ambassadors to states and NC group leaders; the leaders and executives of global civic, social, public, industrial, diplomatic, religious, scientific, academic and educational institutions, organizations, groups and communities as well as international NGO executives; prominent personalities of world science, industry, entertainment, arts and sports, etc. They include globally prominent and distinguished veteran, former and current statesmen, state leaders, heads of state, statespersons, bureaucrats, diplomats, politicians, civil servants, military leaders, high-level military officers, scholars, academics, scientists, intellectuals, thinkers, opinion leaders, community leaders, high-rank clerics, writers, actors, entertainers, musicians, TV personalities, celebrities and personalities of media, sports, arts and entertainment, influencers, inspirers, motivators, entrepreneurs, public figures, dignitaries, philanthropists, luminaries, socialites, benefactors, industrialists, business, trade and technology leaders, activists, labor leaders, etc. The High Assembly Groups’ leaders are also permanent Supreme Council members.

The NCSC decides or rules on issues and motions passed by the NC High Assembly (NCHA). Its decisions and rulings are final while subject to the Senate’s approval which is usually confirmative as formality. On ascending issues and motions coming from the NCHA, its decisions and rulings are usually confirmative. Its own descending issues and motions approved by the Senate are also usually accepted by the lower houses or units confirmatively. Its decisions and rulings, while subject to the Senate's approval, which is usually confirmative, are practically final and non-debatable.

The NCSC's decisions, rulings and resolutions may come as self-originated or self-generated two-way (ascending and descending) motions as well as ascending motions coming from the two legislative NC assemblies, NC High Assembly and NC General Assembly and the NC Assembly at Large [NC At Large]. Its decisions and rulings on ascending motions coming from NC assemblage are usually confirmative being passed above for the WS's approval. An ascending motion coming from the NC High Assembly gets its fate at the NCSC whose decision to pass or reject it is final while it is still subject to WS approval which is almost always confirmative formality. Ascending or otherwise, WS decisions, rulings and resolutions are crucially defining and final.

MECHANISM, VOTING SYSTEM, PROCESS

The NC's unique unprecedented functional mechanism of local, communal, national, regional and global work and co-work with collaborating governmental and public partakers of formal and practical levels, sectors and disciplines makes the universal means of its endeavoring harmoniously and favorably embraceable and workable for all.

The NC's voting system is based on location (in-house) and venue sessions as well as permanent online sessions which are always concluded with voting ordinance . The units variably meet in regular sessions 1-4 times a year and thereafter meet as required. They discuss specific issues through dedicated agenda items or sub-items which lead to motions and adoption of resolutions by voting to address the critical challenges and gaps in global governance for the advancement of peace, security, sustainable development, human dignity and global integrity for present and future generations. Permanent continual online assembly sessions meanwhile provide the main flow of whole NC functionality in terms of universal conformity and the public weight and architecture of the whole NC System and Community.

In any stages and patterns of NC voting at any level, there are no specific restricting or limiting specific elements or conditions for the submitted-for-voting issues, matters or cases in terms of subject matters, or their weight or impact or the extent of their scopes or statuses of submitters:

Examples

■ Personal and Family Issues

Cases related to personal and family issues, and health issues in particular, involving vulnerable, deprived, underprivileged, unprovided, discriminated or disadvantaged people are given high priority. A poverty-stricken underprivileged patient denied a critical life-saving surgical operation, for instance, because he/she does not have health insurance, becomes an urgent issue and gets taken care of immediately and with the highest priority: The NC holds the health authority-in-question and the state responsible and accountable and rules that the patient must promptly and unconditionally be granted the operation and provided with a free permanent health insurance policy.

■ People /Community

An official decision made to call-off search for a group of missing fishermen can swiftly be overturned via an NC submission made by an NC unit or by the local community or even by an individual submitter in order to revoke the call-off decision and continue the search.

■ The Public

The murder of Brian Thompson could have been prevented: Prior to the murder, which is categorically unjustified in the NC's opinion, Mr. Thompson faced angry public criticism for his company's rejection of insurance claims and received even death threats. For its policies in healthcare coverage, the company, United Healthcare, the world's largest healthcare company by revenue, has been drawing colossal criticism for sometime. Had the situation been consulted by and referred to the NC as formally submitted by the perpetrator and/or the complaining public, the issue could have been straightly solved by the NC without any incident.

■ States

■ BREXIT: NATIONAL / REGIONAL / GLOBAL ISSUE

The NC's worldwide community may vote on the reversal of Brexit whether or not England should return to the EU since this is an issue that is crucially important not only for the United kingdom or Europe, but also for the world.

■ The Global System

■ INTERNATIONAL ECOSUMMIT: GLOBAL ISSUE

An NC submission may call into question any unfavorable decisions made by an international EcoSummit and subsequently call the decision-makers to account.

■ Governments and Intergovernmental Organizations

Upon NC submissions, the NC may call into question decisions made by state governments or intergovernmental organizations (UN, EU, AU, BRICS, G20, G7, NATO, etc.) and, if found wrong or unfavorable by voting, further calls the decision makers to account.

VOTING PROGRESSION PATTERNS

The starting element of the functional mechanism of the NC's voting system is "Submission". The NC submissions classified in two groups in regard to their sources of origin:

1. Internal submissions: The NC's own submissions made by NC units or individual, institutional or group members.

The NC's decision-making and ruling pattern is completely based on its voting system through its structural units. Motions, rulings and resolutions pass through the units variably with two-thirds majority or simple majority. While many issues and motions automatically pass as resolutions or rulings straight away or pass variably by-passing units or pass as cleared resolutions or rulings even without voting since they are mostly usual or routine issues for the good of mankind, the voted ones get in the voting process either in an ascending pattern starting from the public voting with the votes that come from the NC At-Large (NCAL) (Public-at-large) to be passed through the upper units, or in a descending pattern with the votes that come from the upper main units and descend on to the NCAL for public voting.

In NCAL voting, the nations vote in a various types of ballots:

- ■ NC Voting per Nations' Requests or Demands: Voting as “Yes” or “No” on an issue or motion which is submitted to the NC by the NCAL to be voted for. The initiation and presentation of an issue or motion may be made by any number of member voters ranging from one person to groups, communities or societies or a whole nation or the world public.
- ■ Nations' Voting per NC's Requests: Voting on an issue which is passed to the NCAL by the higher NC units for the nations to vote as “Yes” or “No”.
- ■ Choosing between Options Submitted by the NCAL: Making a choice out of two or more options of an issue which is submitted to the NC by the NCAL to be voted for. The initiation and presentation of an issue may be made by any volume of member voters ranging from one single person to groups, communities or societies or a whole nation or the world public.
- ■ Choosing between Options Submitted by the Upper NC Units: A choice out of two or more options of an issue which is passed to the NCAL by the higher NC units for the NC members for the nations to vote by choosing.
- ■ Referendum Voting*: National or international Issues passed to NCAL for “Yes” or “No” voting in a referendum format and pattern.

SUBMISSION OF A MOTION: A motion is a proposal that the entire originating NC unit agrees on its clearance to be put forward. It may be originated from any NC unit and proposed and submitted by any member of the unit. At any functional or hierarchical level of the NC, submitting an issue or motion is the starting point of the process in NC voting. Any submission may be tabled, advanced or put forward at any legislative or ruling NC unit. A motion is self-explanatory and described with clear precise terms. Its submission is seconded by an upper NC unit as a precondition to the discussion and voting. Usually steamrolled through, a motion follows an ascending or descending route through the process via the conducting related units and/or subunits. Submitted motions get listed, put forward and advanced with routine procedures through the routine process.

Unanimous Consent: If a motion put forward at any of the legislative or ruling units is a routine one and unlikely to be controversial, it straightly goes through with unanimous consent without formal voting. If an objection is made by an individual member or a group of the unit, it may be put to a formal vote.

Procedural Patterns in the Resolution and Ruling Process

1. Resolutions and Rulings without voting: The majority of NC resolutions and rulings, all for the good of mankind, get adopted without voting; such a resolution may be initiated and developed internally without NCAL vote and originated from one or more of the NC's upper main units which all get simultaneously notified of the initiation of the issue proposed to be passed. The NC Supreme Council then approves and prepares it to be passed and placed in the NC's Resolutions and Rulings List.

2. Resolutions and Rulings by Descending Voting Flow: The process for this voting starts from the upper units with the approval of the WS by voting. The proposed issue then goes to the NCAL. The procedure in this voting is in the form of referendum; the issue gets publically voted for by the nations and the result gets issued as a resolution or ruling and gets placed in the NC's Resolutions and Rulings List.

2. Resolutions and Rulings by Ascending Voting Flow: The process for this voting starts from the NCAL. The nations cast their public votes which then go to the upper units and the WS which in turn passes it to the WS as the final step for finalizing the ruling, and then to the Supreme Council for the releases. The Ascending voting at the higher levels and WS is almost always affirmative voting just to automatically approve the Nations' decisions which are always positive and for the good of all mankind.

Based on the results of voting for NC motions or resolutions, the NC takes the conclusive final step with the possibilities of ultimate routes as below:

- 1. Resolving Concluded Issues: The NC directly deals with the concluded issues to be resolved and undertakes them by itself fulfilling them as required.
- 2. Concluded Cases as Subjects of Litigation: Concluded issues requiring legal direction or redirection or becoming the subject of litigation are submitted to the NC Judicial Council [NCJC] decides whether or not issues in question must be handed to the NC Court [NCC] to be put in legal process of litigation in which respondents or defendants are usually state governments or their agencies, departments, bodies or organizations as well as the UN, EU, AU, etc or their agencies, departments, bodies or organizations, etc, while the plaintiff is the NC on behalf of nations or their citizens individually or as communities as well as social or minority groups, or any other parties including NC-member NGOs, corporations or groups of private sectors of trade, industry, health, science and technology, etc.

3. Calling to Account for Concluded Cases : Concluded cases that do not require legal direction or redirection are submitted to the respondents or defendants (as listed above in “2”) who are called to account without litigation.

EXTERNAL SUBMISSIONS

External NC Submissions of national, regional or global public human-related or nature-related issues or matters, in forms of request, petition, appeal, demand, claim or consultation, come to the NC, to be discussed and voted on, from states, state governments or local governments or their agencies, units, departments or organizations; intergovernmental organizations including the UN, EU, AU, etc; public, social or private organizations or institutions; NGOs or civil society groups or organizations or communities; private or governmental companies, corporations, enterprises, etc, in order to get the Nations’ views, opinions, adjudications or decisions having the respondents as one nation or community, or multiple nations or all nations.

External submissions are made to the NC by the UN, EU, AU, NATO or other fellow intergovernmental organizations as well as state governments. With its “Ask the Nations first” motto, the NC demands that world states, state governments and their agencies, departments, bodies and organizations as well as the major intergovernmental organizations including the UN, EU, AU, NATO and their agencies, departments, bodies or organizations, etc, all other fellow intergovernmental organizations get the nations’ opinions, choices and preferences on all nations-related issues chiefly involving human and civil rights; health and medical rights; consumer rights; climate, nature and environment; trade and industry; science and technology; and arts, literature and sports. Their failure to do so in crucially important cases, in particular, compels the NC to take the issues-in-question to its internal agenda and schedule list for discussion which ultimately leads to voting in order to formally call them to account.

The NC also demands that world states, state governments and their agencies, departments, bodies and organizations and the major intergovernmental organizations including the UN, EU, AU, NATO and their agencies, departments, bodies or organizations, etc, all other fellow intergovernmental organizations must get the nations’ opinions, choices and preferences on all nations-related issues not only in the necessity of submission, but as a standard practice; they must routinely notify the NC of all their nations-related resolutions, rulings, bills, proposals, etc, through their interactively run NC Liaison Offices which transmurally administer and conduct their NC relations on regular basis.

Re-shaping the world, the NC is the planet's very self and what the world is about.

NC FUND AND FUNDING

NC Fund

The NC fund, the NC's own foundation, is for the wellbeing and welfare of individuals, families, communities and nations in need. Through the fund, the NC facilitates all of its sources of income and revenues to generate funds to cover expenditures for people, communities and nations in need across the world. The foundation self-sufficiently manages the expenses related to or needed for its causes and purposes spanning a wide range from juridical and healthcare expenses for medical, legal and bureaucratic victims who are unable to cover their expenses, to expenditures for the NC's local, national, regional, continental and global civil, humanitarian, environmental and cultural issues, matters, programs, enterprise and projects and community programs, schemes and projects. The fund also provides financial support to its member NGOs, as well as all other NC-member or NC-affiliated national, regional and international organizations, institutions, and social, civic and community groups.

NC Funding

The NC does not accept any financial contributions in regular or routine fee formats or arrangements. Neither does it accept any payment or contribution of any kind or form from political parties, groups or individuals. Its programs and funds are financed by assessed and voluntary contributions that come from member states and member corporations, organizations, institutions and major funds and trusts as well as selectively accepted governmental, corporate, organizational, institutional and public donations while the main sources of its funding primarily include revenues that come from its own global humanitarian public, civil, cultural, industrial and technology projects.

The UN makes every praised effort to get the world out of this cascade of misery and despair, often to no avail, but it remains underpowered to provide nations with a more secure, safer, equitable and prosperous world while the EU contributes to the solutions scantily. Being left to their fate, vulnerable, unguarded, unprotected, defenseless and divulged, the nations of the world, with their own Congress, the NC, now come forth to officially assert themselves having their say, making their presence tangibly felt and seen and their voice formally heard and acted upon with its normative power.
